

acrylic painting & drawing still life

STURT SUMMER SCHOOL
4th-9th January 2010

$536 GST included
no material fee

By learning to look at the relationship between form, texture, colour and light in a still life subject, you will explore the process of pencil and pen and ink drawing on watercolour paper followed by acrylic painting techniques on canvas. At first concentrating on observational drawing techniques and then by focusing on still life compositions, you will learn the basics of acrylic painting on canvas.

Each participant will complete at least two black and white pen and ink drawings and two acrylic paintings. This course is suited for all students.

Although Jenny Manning spent most of her working career as an art teacher in the Education section of the National Gallery of Australia, she continued her art practice in her spare time. She studied sculpture in the 1980s at the Canberra School of Art and has a long time obsession with drawing and more recently painting, focusing on creating an illusion of three dimensions on a flat surface. She has 24 years workshop teaching experience and particularly enjoys teaching mature age students.

The Summer School runs for 5½ days between Monday 4th and Saturday 9th January and the classes are held from 9am to 4.30pm (12.30 on Saturday). Tea and coffee are provided.
